COVID-19 BUSINESS CONTINUITY PLANNING & RISK ASSESSMENTS

Office re-configuration | Helping you and your team as you consider returning to the work environment. Many businesses are planning to return to their workplaces in the coming weeks and months. This return may be gradual and carried out by you in phases. At Logical, we are here to help you plan for this new phase for your team and for your business.

Our research team has been working behind the scenes and have devised a series of support platforms to help you navigate these new realities. We are offering these services now, and hope that these will help with the transition. Please contact us for further details.
